

Resources Committee

AY 2010-2011

In 2010-2011 the Resources Committee met several times and considered the question of whether the Resources Committee had sufficient visibility within the campus community. The Committee evaluated its role in understanding campus interests and considered whether it had the means to adequately identify campus concerns and appropriately represent the community.

Ultimately, the Committee recommended to the CPUC the creation of a Resources Committee website that would serve as a repository for Committee reports, would provide information about the Committee's guidelines, and would provide a mechanism for contacting the Committee with issues and concerns. The Committee also proposed an annual presentation to the CPUC. These recommendations were supported by the CPUC. The launch of a Resources Committee website is anticipated in the fall of 2011.
